The newest addition to the Bali stable from Catana, the BALI 4.8, offers, as does the 5.4, new access to the forward cockpit by an interior door. There is access to rear cabins by panels opening onto the aft cockpit, and a 6 cabin / 6 bathroom version unheard of on a 48 footer.

There are all of the recognized innovations such as the rigid forward cockpit with lounge area and sunbathing area; the new platform linking the two sugar-scoops with large bench seat and lockers; the large tilt and-turn door and sliding windows; and a panoramic relaxation area on the coach-roof to name a few.

Interiors

The interiors by the Laska Design Studio are more refined, offering soft and clean lines and an elegant neutral palette, using natural tones and finishes to rival the most contemporary interior of a well appointed luxury apartment.

The Bali 4.8 has a large living space with a level floor through to the galley giving ease of access, a door that opens or closes on demand in a few seconds and large sliding windows most importantly creating panoramic 360 degree views from the living, dining areas and galley. The galley is L-shaped and very well-equipped with a bar and Large American two door refrigerator. The Saloon/dining area boasts space for 12 guests. There is a Large comfortable chart table facing the sea for the business end of cruising.

All of these features and more are setting new standards in well-being and liveability aboard a catamaran.

Designed for restful sleep and privacy, the cabins are warmly decorated in the flow through style of the galley and living areas with modern and refined materials and all have their own bathroom with shower and toilet. The rear or midships cabins have independent access through the aft cockpit.

The Bali 4.8 of course also comes with all of the Catana safety features and besides that the excellence in performance Catamaran design that is well known by Catana, most importantly this goes a step further towards realising the marriage of the two - performance and style, therefore providing a live-aboard Catamaran that oozes with elegance and sophistication.
